 COMMENT. We hear, that on Saturday last an entirely new Scene of the Temple of Glory was shown for the first time in the Opera of Alceste, which as it excell'd everything of that kind for its Magnificance and Elegancy hitherto exhibited in any theatre, so it met with an universal Approbation from a numerous and polite Audience.—General Advertiser, 4 June.

 COMMENT. Handel to Jennens: I have taken the Opera House in the Haymarket, engaged, as Singers, Sig[no]ra Francesina, Miss Robinson, Beard, Reinhold, Mr Gates with his Boyes's and several of the best Chorus Singers from the Choirs, and I have some hopes that Mrs Cibber will sing for me. She sent word from Bath (where she is now) that she would perform for me next winter with great pleasure if it did not interfere with her playing, but I think I can obtain Mr Riches's permission (with whom she is engaged to play in Covent Garden House) since so obligingly he gave leave to Mr Beard and Mr Reinhold.—Deutsch Handel, pp. 591-92.
